

Prospective Member Information

The Ken McDonald Women's Group (KMWGA) plays Tuesday mornings with our regular season running November through May. We have just under 100 members with 55-65 ladies playing weekly. The league provides friendly and fun competitions each week.

The regular season dues are $50 plus the applicable AGA fee ($40 for 2024-25). New membership and renewals are done online starting October 3rd. The KMWGA dues cover the KMWGA season, and the AGA fees are calendar year (covering 2025). Club dues for seasonal membership (joining after January 1, 2025) are $35 plus the applicable AGA fee. If you are a member of more than one club, the AGA fee is reduced to $15 for the additional clubs you join.

The annual membership dues include entry into each Play of the Day to cover prize money. Should you choose to play in quarterly special events and tournaments, minimal entry fees are required.

KMWGA by-laws do require a new member to have a handicap or to turn in a minimum of 3 score cards totaling 54 holes at time of sign up. If you are new to golf, we suggest you play the course prior to deciding to join the league. The course is fun but can be challenging for new golfers as it is quite long. Many leagues have a maximum handicap for players to join their league. We have chosen not to do so but do suggest that if your score is typically over 112-115 you might find a different league suits your game better and one that would provide a better league experience.

We want to encourage more ladies to join our very successful league and we want your experience with KMWGA to be a good one! Please contact our President, Cindy Schupp, at kenmcdonaldwga.com for additional league information and to help you find the right league to grow your game and your social network of fellow golfers.
